

FRENCH RENEW DRIVE IN GERMANY

U. S. OFFICIALS DENY NEW POLICY TOWARD EUROPE CONTEMPLATED

Strong Reports From Paris That This Country is About to Propose New Measures With-out Ground.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Strong reports from Paris today that the United States is about to propose new measures to remedy the critical situation brought about by France's occupation of the Ruhr were met with equally strong official denial at the State Department.

The United States has not submitted any new proposals, it was said, nor is there any likelihood of this government's doing so until and unless there is a change in policy on the part of continental nations, chiefly France.

If Colonel Roland W. Boyden, the American unofficial observer on the reparations commission is considering making some remedial suggestions to the commission he is doing it on his own responsibility and not upon instructions from Secretary of State Hughes, officials said in response to reports that Boyden was to lay a proposition before the powers.

The suggestion was advanced that Col. Boyden might be preparing to formally submit to the reparations commission the so called "Hughes plan" for an international commission of economic experts to survey the reparations tangle and recommend a solution.

The Hughes plan, so far as this government is aware, has never been officially placed before the reparations commission. It was communicated to Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium, through the usual diplomatic channels, but not to the reparations commission.

Colonel Boyden has been permitted a wide latitude in his representation of this government on the commission largely, it is said, because of the "unofficial" character of his standing.

His recent speech to the commission in which he opposed France's occupation of the Ruhr and suggested the need for a revision of the treaty of Versailles, was made without directions from the state department and officials here secured their first information concerning it from press dispatches. The speech however, was approved by President Harding and Secretary Hughes.

All reports of impending American moves abroad were met today with a reiteration of the American policy enunciated by both President Harding and Secretary Hughes—that the present time is not deemed propitious for American intervention abroad but that the offer of American good offices in adjusting the reparations controversy is still standing before the chancelleries of Europe when they care to take advantage of it. Thus far, it was said today, they have not indicated any such desire and consequently this government is "awaiting developments."

TWO SUSPECTS IN ROBBERY OF MINT ARE HELD

Denial of Complicity Made to Chicago Police Who Arrest Pair.

Chicago, Jan. 15.—Two suspects in the $200,000 Denver mint robbery, in which a guard was killed, are under arrest here today. One of the men, who gave his name as Dan Culhans, is believed by the police to be Albert T. Hollywood, suspected leader of the bandit gang.

Five detectives, acting on advice from the police of Kansas City, seized Culhans while he lay in bed in the Washington hotel. He had been traced through a long distance call he had made to Kansas City. The Kansas City police had tapped the wire. Culhans denied he was a member of the Denver mint robbery gang. He said he was a St. Louis gambler. He would not explain the marked money found in his possession.

Hollywood has been sought also as leader of the band which raided the Citizens Bank at Springfield, Mo., and escaped with $20,000.

GERMAN SITUATION ONE OF GRAVE DANGER AS FRENCH ADVANCE

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Despite the unanimity of national sentiment which is being vouchsafed the government, the situation growing out of the presence of armed French forces in parts of Germany previously unoccupied is considered a serious one, and nothing is suggested as to what line of further action is at the government's disposal.

One parliamentary leader referred not only to possible reaction from Paris to the German official attitude, the German government considering the treaty of Versailles abrogated, but also as of the opinion that the internal situation was fraught with grave danger.

Just now the government is giving serious consideration to the adoption of emergency economic measures calculated to meet the sudden turn in the situation throughout Germany without anticipating diplomatic and foreign economic ratifications, which may become urgent issues at an early date.

The reichstag approved the course of Chancellor Cuno and his nonpartisan cabinet by a vote of 283 to 12.

TORTURE RACK USED BY KLAN IS FOUND

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 15.—By calling Sheriff Fred L. Carpenter as a "surprise" witness, in the open hearing today, the state of Louisiana "burned the bridges" behind members of a "hooded mob" which smashed its way into the home of Alonzo L. Braddock, Morehouse parish farmer, to carry him away a prisoner last summer.

Braddock blamed this outrage on Ku Klux Klansmen and positively identified six members of the "mob." The crime is a capital offense with hanging as the penalty in Louisiana.

Sheriff Carpenter, self admitted member of the Klan, was used by the state to prove that the "mob" did not act for parish authorities and did not have a search warrant when it broke into Braddock's house in the dead of the night.

The members whom Braddock identified were Captain J. K. Skipwith, Marvin Pickett, Kurd Pickett, Bent Pratt, Sam Cox, and Sam Eldridge, all well known residents. Carpenter declared he had once given permission to raid the homes of several men suspected of making moonshine whiskey. He denied, however, that the "mob" had search warrants when it smashed its way into Braddock's home.

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 15.—The "invisible court," which banished men to an exile far from family and friends, was the object of the state's investigation today at the open hearing on the brutal "hooded mob" murder.

The order of deportation issued against Davenport, it was revealed, brought on the series of "peace conferences" at which klansmen and other citizens met to plan steps for ending the community's "reign of terror." Prominent business men who were

GERMAN COMEDIAN SPOOFS RUSSIANS

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Paul Morgan, noted German vaudeville comedian, is going around these days puffed up with pride because Soviet Russia has entered into diplomatic relations with him.

Morgan's chief pride used to be that he bore the name of Morgan. But that has been supplanted by the fact that a secretary of the Russian Embassy here recently called on him with a request that he quit telling stories about his alleged experiences with Tchitcherine at Genoa.

Morgan, who holds forth at a local cabaret, has been telling how, while dining with Tchitcherine at Genoa, he missed his watch. He thereupon, according to his tale, informed Tchitcherine, who, excusing himself for a few minutes, entered his secretary's room, and emerged with the missing time-piece.

"But he doesn't know I got it," explained Tchitcherine, as quoted by Morgan.

Whereupon the comedian made an expressive gesture that always brought down the house.

The other night a tall, pale, very much excited gentleman called on Morgan behind the scenes and, introducing himself as the secretary of the Russian Embassy here, demanded that the slander on his chief cease at once.

Morgan calmed him by telling him the story dates back to the days of Noah. And the cabaret press agent, having seen the newspapers, the laugh is now on the Russian Embassy.

HOLD BASEBALL UMPIRE IN MAN'S DEATH SATURDAY

Contractor Also Being Questioned Following Shooting

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—Ollie Chill, American league umpire, was questioned by the police in connection with the death of Edward J. McGregor, 28, found shot to death in an apartment house. Chill, according to the police, was one of three men found in the apartment when the officers broke in the door. The men declare they remember hearing two shots fired, but neither was able to say who did the shooting. A booze party, including several brawls and fights, preceded the shooting, according to a statement given to the police by Joseph F. Johnson, a taxicab driver, who says he had taken McGregor and the three men to the apartment. All were intoxicated, Johnson said. President Johnson of the American league announced that Chill had been released.

STRENGTHENING OF RAILROAD CREDITS AS AID TO MORE COAL

Washington, Jan. 15.—According to a report of a special committee of the American Railway association, filed with the United States coal commission, a way can be found to provide a more adequate and more reasonably priced coal supply for the nation in the strengthening of railroad credit and the maintenance of peaceful industrial relations.

If regulatory bodies and commissions will adopt "such an attitude toward railroads as will convince the public that money invested in railroads will receive a fair return," the report said, "carriers will be able to increase facilities to assure transportation of the supply, while prevention of strikes would allow regular production without congestion such as that now develops when consumers endeavor to take in all of a winter's supply during a comparatively few weeks."

The report pointed out that since 1910 the number of bituminous coal mines had more than doubled, while the output of coal per mine, figured on an annual basis, had decreased. This, it was said, demonstrated "inflation" in the industry and put a strain upon the railroads in that they were required to attempt to distribute cars among all the new mines and likewise to keep available an increasing reserve of cars and locomotives for serving mines that operated only on part time basis.

"Notwithstanding the fact that railroad facilities have increased in greater ratio than coal tonnage," the report said, "it has happened that the carriers have been unable to furnish transportation service for the traffic currently offered. In such situations the public insistently contends, and in fact the bituminous coal operators are doing so at the present time, that the facilities of the carriers are inadequate."

MISSING BANK TELLER RETURNS

Painesville, O., Jan. 15.—A. C. Flint, teller of a local bank, walked into his home here as mysteriously as he left it last Tuesday, since when a statewide search for him has been in progress. Mr. Flint came to Painesville from Dayton, where he said first realized his whereabouts since leaving here, according to W. G. Radcliff, manager of the bank. Flint is believed to have suffered from a nervous breakdown.

KILLED AT CROSSING

Toledo, Jan. 15.—William Zimmerman, a driver for the Toledo Transfer company, was killed instantly and the driver of another automobile was injured, probably fatally, when a passenger train wrecked both automobiles at a crossing here. The injured man is Otto Schafer, 38.

MOVIE ACTRESS WOUNDED

Los Angeles, Jan. 15.—Priscilla Dean, motion picture star, was slightly wounded in the right shoulder, and Wong Poo, well known Chinese, narrowly escaped death when Ah Sing, a Chicago gun man, fired a shot that precipitated a tong war in Universal City.

FORMER FRENCH PREMIER DIES

Paris, Jan. 15.—Alexandre Ribot, former premier and a minister in many French cabinets, died suddenly here. Death came two hours after his one day's illness had been diagnosed as not being of a serious character. M. Ribot's widow was Minnie Burch of Chicago.

BERLIN'S REFUSAL TO PAY MINERS LEADS TO MILITARY ACTIVITIES

Paris, Jan. 15.—French troops are advancing into Bochum, war minister Maginot announced this afternoon.

According to the army newspaper L'Echo De Paris, the activities of French troops in the Rhineland were resumed "as a reply to Berlin's refusal to pay the mine owners for coal turned over to the allies."

Premier Mussolini of Italy, was reported to have sent a note to Premier Poincare protesting vigorously against continued independent action in the Rhineland without consulting Italy. The note states that while Italy favors measures of control, she does not countenance seizure of private property.

SMALL INVESTORS OVERSUBSCRIBE GOVERNMENT ISSUE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The recent treasury offering of $300,000,000 in 4 1/2 per cent treasury notes, maturing Dec. 15, 1927, has been oversubscribed by about $200,000,000, according to an announcement by Secretary Mellon.

While detailed figures are not yet in the hands of treasury officials, it was declared that indications warranted the statement that the subscriptions were general and the results of the offering "entirely satisfactory."

The usual first-of-the-year reinvestment demand appears to have accounted for the heavy oversubscription, but figures available showed, it was said, that the bulk of the amounts offered had been taken by smaller investors. Approximately $235,000,000 originally offered was covered in subscriptions of less than $100,000, which is unusual in the sale of such securities, according to officials.

Although the subscription books closed Saturday night, the treasury announcement said that unregistered war savings certificates of the 1918 series and 4 per cent and 4 1/2 per cent victory notes, maturing in May, still will be accepted in exchange for the new notes up to the close of business tonight. This time limit includes exchange subscriptions actually in the mails at that time.

PROPOSES MOVIES AS SCHOOL SUBJECT

Columbus, Jan. 15.—State Director of Education Riegel proposes that a class be created in high schools of the state to "study the movies." His plan, as outlined in a letter sent to school superintendents, contemplates organization in each high school of the state of a "better films committee" to review and report upon motion pictures showing at local theaters each week. Riegel suggests that "senior, sophomore and freshmen classes be called upon to do this work in turn, all reviewing to be bulletined, after approval by the English teachers, thus serving the double purpose of English composition and visual education."

ILLNESS PROMPTS SUICIDE

Marion, O., Jan. 15.—Extreme suffering from asthma, which he bore with fortitude for many years, but which finally completely broke him down, is given as the cause of the suicide of R. N. Matthews, 72, who shot himself as he lay in bed at his home here. He was a steel worker.

PRICE OF MARK FIXED

Berlin, Jan. 15.—The Reichs bank has fixed the purchase price of the 20-mark gold piece at 35,000 paper marks.

HEAD NEARLY SEVERED IN CUTTING AFFRAY

Levi Drake, 35, of 71 Home Avenue, will appear before Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Friday morning to answer to a charge of cutting William Howells, 30, of Stetson Road, who is in Espey Hospital with a deep wound in his neck.

Howells was stabbed while he was walking along Whiteman street between Main and Second streets about seven o'clock Saturday evening. Surgeons at the hospital say he will recover. Police could not find Drake after the cutting affair Saturday but he appeared at Police Headquarters Monday morning with his attorney F. L. Johnson, and gave himself up. He was arraigned on a drunk and disorderly charge and his bond fixed at $200 for appearance in court Friday morning.

Although his head was more than halfway severed from his body, Howells walked almost four squares before summoning aid. Although Howells was extremely reticent when questioned by Police, it is said that he was attacked from the rear, the knife stabbing him first in the back of the neck near the spine and then passing around the right side of his neck to the front and past the "Adam's Apple," describing more than a half-circle about two inches deep. The knife fortunately jumped over the jugular vein.

After the cutting, Howells applied his handkerchief to the wound to staunch the blood, and walked north on Whiteman to Market, east on Market to Collier and south on Collier to Main, where he met William Quirk, and asked to be taken to a physician. Quirk took the injured man to the office of Dr. George Davis, East Main Street, and Dr. Davis rushed him to the Espey Hospital. Surgeons say the cut is one of the worst they every had to take care of, and that Howells had the appearance that his head was about to fall from his neck. Numerous stitches were then to close the wound and he is expected to recover.

After the cutting Drake is said to have gone to his home and obtained his automobile, left the city with his wife, Police, who visited the house a few minutes afterwards found no trace of him. Howells is said to have refused to tell police whom he thought his assailant was.

XENIA HIGH FIVE DEFEATS BEXLEY

Coach Earl Burner's Central High basketball team climbed back into victory column Saturday night by defeating Bexley High of Columbus 20 to 15.

Showing marked improvement over their play of a week ago, especially in locating the net, the Burner protégés revived hopes of fans for a winning combination that will yet make itself heard from.

The blue and white performers played better basketball at Washington Friday than they did a week before, and they continued to hit this stride in the Saturday night contest with the Columbus five. The game itself was easy to look at, as the teams were fairly close together most of the way, and there was the element of uncertainty throughout the play.

The visitors stepped off to a slender lead a half-minute after the pasting had gotten underway, when Hieronymus, the lengthy center, tossed a shot from the foul line. His free-throw basket a moment later gave his team a two-point lead, which was overcome by two fouls by LeSourd. The teams were tied again at four-all baskets by Russell and Schwab, but after that Xenia assumed a lead that was never cut down.

The half ended with the score 15 to 9, but the visitors came back with a more vicious attack in the second session, scoring six points to five captured by the locals. The local athletes mixed in the pass-work strenuously throughout the game and did not miss as many shots as last week, showing the telling effect of last week's drilling. "There is still room for improvement, however," said Coach Burner, after the game. Captain Currie, Schwab and LeSourd starred for Xenia, while Russell and Hieronymus played best for the Columbus quintet. The lineup and summary:

Xenia 20, Columbus 15.

The Misses Petzinger, Miss Poole and Miss Hieronymus starred for the Columbus team. The game was played under boys' rules. The lineup and summary:

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The syrup part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS TO GIVE PROGRAM ON JANUARY 22

Under the leadership of deputy scout commissioner, Leigh M. Nisbet, both Boy Scout Troops of the city are making elaborate arrangements for the program to be staged for the Dayton Scoutmasters' association, January 22 at seven o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church, this city.

Members of the two Troops friends and parents of the scouts together with the members of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Xenia will be present for the program, which will consist of a demonstration in scouting.

The evening's program will open with battalion formation, in charge of Scoutmaster Nisbet, followed by the presentation of colors, the recitation of the oath and law in concert, and the return of colors. Both troops will then be dismissed to perform their individual "stunts." Troop One to stage the competitive drill, Troop Two, under the scoutmastership of Walter R. Jobe, to stage the pack inspection demonstration.

Dr. W. A. Galloway will stage a first aid demonstration with the aid of several older scouts who have had practical experience during the last two years.

At the request of Mr. Nisbet, the Dayton court of honor is going to install all scouts who have promoted themselves since the affiliation with Dayton. Scott Pierce, chairman of the Dayton court, is making plans to have a formal presentation of awards on this night. Two eagles, one star, 60 merit badges will be awarded on the occasion, six first class scouts to be admitted to the tribe of Wigwags, a tribe organized in Xenia for advanced scouts.

The presentation of the Scouts individual shields is also looked forward to as an occasion of importance, as every scout in the troop has his record told in picture form on his shield. Following this presentation, there will be an inspection of quarters by the visiting Daytonians.

The co-operation of business men, and clubs of the city is said by Scouts to be largely contributive to the success of the organization. The court of honor committee of the Xenia Scouts

Get health—Keep health—Feel fine by eating Kellogg's Bran regularly!

Constipation and the toxic poisonings that come from it not only take the enthusiasm out of life, making you depressed and physically and mentally dull—but they head you into diseases such as Bright's, diabetes, rheumatism, etc. You can actually rid yourself of these dangers if you will EAT KELLOGG'S BRAN REGULARLY!—at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases with every meal!

Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoonsful of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

Keep The Egg Basket Full!

The feed elements that make whites of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't keep the egg basket full. The usual method of feeding mostly grain makes yolks but not enough whites to complete the eggs.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:

	Yolks	Whites
Purina Hen Chow	247.49	142.11
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05	282.55
Combined Ration	429.54	424.66

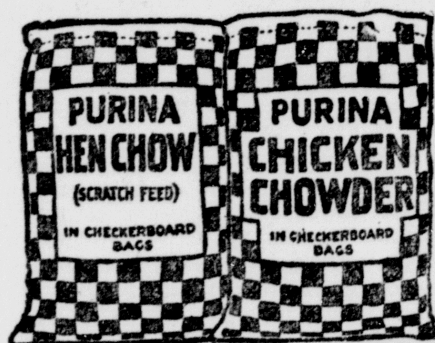

These Purina chows not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary chows.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and they are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee

more eggs or money back

on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Hen Chow as directed. You take no risk.

GENERAL BUSINESS AT START OF 1923 IS GOOD; PREDICT INCREASE

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—General business at the beginning of 1923 is good and getting better, says the Cleveland Trust Company, in its business bulletin for January issued today. The year will probably be one of business prosperity in America, with increasing profits, rising wages, rising prices and advancing costs of living, the bank believes.

Among the factors tending toward a continuation of prosperity there are four of special importance, the review continues, "the first is the momentum of the present movement of business prosperity. Every industry is more prosperous than it was a year ago. Profits are higher than they were last winter but not so large as to destroy business caution.

KINGMAN CAGERS WIN OVER BEXLEY

The Bexley High quintet of Columbus, could not keep pace with the Kingman pill tossers Friday on the rink floor the Kingman lads winning handily 30 to 6. Kingman got off with a rush. Once in the lead the blue and red aggregation continued to better its advantage until it was plain that the only doubt connected with the combat was as to how large the final score would be. The Kingman boys gave a good exhibition of basket shooting, and played a tight guarding game. The Bexley combination did not get man ypoints at net and what few they did were wasted because of their inability to locate the basket. In the forty minutes of play the Bexley lads annexed but two fielders and two touts. Hieronemus, of Springfield, at their points. F. Carter led the scoring for Kingman with six fielders, while his brother was next high man with four fielders and four foul goals. Wall and Carr at guards played a fine game. Lineup:

Kingman (30) Bexley (6)
H. Carter.....L. F.....Legg
F. Carter.....R. F.....Russell
Thompson.....C.....Hieronemus
Wall.....L. G.....Sheatsley
Carr.....R. G.....Sauer
Substitutions: Kingman, Moran for Carr, Osborn for F. Carter. Bexley, Williams for Russell. Scoring, Kingman, H. Carter 4; F. Carter 6. Thompson 2; Wall 3; Foulis, H. Carter, 4. Bexley, Hieronemus 2. Fouls Hieronemus 2. Referee, Spears of Wilmington College and R. Yeakley.

In the preliminary the Bexley girls team won 10 to 9 over the Kingman tossers.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase. S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells. You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C.'s of medical science. Red-cells mean clear-pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. ## MUSCLE SHOALS, NOT QUEST FOR PRESIDENCY, IS FORD'S PRINCIPAL CONCERN NOW.

Mr. Ford was seen and talked with at the office of the Dearborn Independent in the experimental plant at Dearborn, Mich., a prosperous little town about ten miles west of Detroit. His home, about half a mile from the plant, is but a short distance from the old Ford farmhouse, where he was born fifty-seven years ago.

"My proposition is in—it has been there for eighteen months," he said, "and the Government can take it or leave it, but in the event Congress rejects it, you may be sure of an even more determined effort upon my part to save Muscle Shoals for the public and prevent its exploitation by private interests for private benefit."

"I have a vivid picture in my mind of a city all around Muscle Shoals, up and down the valley, with power being developed in the river sufficient for the employment of at least 800,000 men, heads of families," he said, adding: "At our Detroit plant we employ one man for every one-horse-power we develop. If we get 800,000 horsepower at Muscle Shoals, and that is what the two dams will generate, it means that we must have 800,000 men to utilize that power."

"While the manufacture, sale and distribution of commercial fertilizer to farmers and other users constitutes one of the principal considerations in my plans, we have other developments planned should Congress intrust me with the leasehold," said Mr. Ford.

Here an interruption was made in inquiry as to why he had not offered to buy the properties at Muscle Shoals and Mr. Ford replied:

"I would not buy what ought to belong to the Government. Yes, I am frank to say that I favor Government ownership. I would willingly develop it to show what could be done with it, but the Government should always own it."

Mr. Ford continued his "picture" of Muscle Shoals as it would be under his control. "One thing we have been figuring on establishing down there in the Tennessee River Valley is some cotton mills," he said. "We use 200,000 yards of cloth daily in our plants, and only recently a cotton mill was offered us. It had a capacity of 2000 yards, about 1 per cent of what we need."

"Another installation I have thought of to employ Muscle Shoals power is an aluminum plant. There is no limit to the amount of aluminum that could be used in automobile building. In fact, the best use to make of aluminum is for automobiles, rather than in general industry."

"A third employment of the power we develop would be for energy to operate transportation up and down the river, a distance of from sixty to seventy miles in the area we are operating."

Mr. Ford paused, and said there were other industries under consideration for establishment at Muscle Shoals, as the automobile business was one that took in all the arts. He spoke of rows of workingmen's homes, with gardens along miles of countryside—a long city instead of a round city.

He talked of so many jobs being thrown open, and what was in the back of his head as a practical demonstration of water power used in a fashion to build up new cities planned along lines that precluded any congestion in tenements or fetid squalor.

"That is our dream," he remarked. "I have found in experience that when a person turns to face in the right direction, the best way always shows up. As I always tell my son, as long as we are moved by a desire to do the most good for the most people, there will always be money enough to carry our plans."

THE BREAK WITH FRANCE.

As French bayonets go into the Ruhr, the few American bayonets left in Europe leave the Rhine. The American drift toward this has been swift and certain and the announcement of the decision both dramatic and emphatic.

There was to have been no American "pressure," but "moral suasion" or whatever we used appears to have failed. Therefore, in the view of the Administration, now is "an expedient time" to quit the Rhine. Something, unrevealed as yet, happened in Paris late Tuesday. The American mind was made up within twenty-four hours thereafter.

American disapproval of the French policy could hardly be made more emphatic. Where flew the French, British, Belgian, Italian, and American flags the Stars and Stripes have gone. The "solidarity" along the Rhine is broken. France now knows that so far as America is concerned she goes alone into the Ruhr, that America disapproves of the march and is fearful of what may come out of it.

America's action is taken more in sorrow than in anger. We must regard France as an erring but sorely tried comrade whose troubles have driven her to do a thing likely to injure Europe, the world and herself. We can and do understand the French viewpoint; but we regret and deprecate it, not on Germany's account, but in dread of what may result for France.

That this opens a breach between France and America cannot be denied. It has been coming a long time. As far back as the Washington Conference France was making a bad impression in America. Her apologists and even the devoted "Tiger" could not wipe it out. She may now be expected to reject the still unratified Washington treaties, and our withdrawal makes it improbable that she will be able to turn to us in any reparations settlement.

France has repulsed her best friend, America. She is estranged from her comrade, Great Britain. She has put aside the restraining hands of all the world and is about to gamble her future, and it may be the future of Europe, on the turn of the German card.—Public Ledger.

A LITTLE STORY ABOUT PYLE'S PEARLINE.

Under the caption, "Didn't have to Advertise," an advertising agency recalls the disappearance of Pearline from the market, and the reason for its eclipse, and then points the moral of the story as follows:

"Do you remember Pyle's Pearline? Once it was the most popular washing powder in America."

"In 1907 Pyle's Pearline ceased advertising. They did not have to advertise, advertising was no longer necessary. Pearline was a good product and everybody knew about it."

"In 1914 the Procter & Gamble Co. bought Pyle's Pearline at their own figure to save it from bankruptcy."

"In seven years the public forgot Pearline. You have got to do more than make a good product. You must tell your dealer and consumer, and keep on telling them the advantage of your article."

"If people did not die, if people did not move, if new generations did not grow up, if customs and habits did not change, if people were not open to suggestion, and receptive to new ideas, then there would be no need, no use in advertising."

"But until then advertising is the surest safeguard for the established product, the most certain hope for the new idea."

MONEY WANTED.

Every day some plaintive gent at my humble home appears, asking me to give a cent I have earned in sweat and tears; "Dig up, in the name of Pete," says the gent, in accents sweet; "we are building a retreat for consumptive auctioneers." Every hour some drivesmith bold to my cottage gallivants; for my stock of minted gold and my store of groats he pants; "Dig up from your treasure chest," is the drivesmith's stern behest; "we would build a place of rest for decayed and shopworn aunts." Long ago when people came on an errand of this kind, they were backward in the game, to its faults they were not blind; now the drivesmith doesn't plead; he is arrogant, indeed; "Hand us out the chicken-feed," is his dictum, unrefined. "If you do not promptly dig," says the man who asks my wad, "then your name in letters big will be advertised abroad; to the confines of the state you will have a record great as the cheapest sort of skate, as a piker and a fraud." Let us stop these endless drives which the wartime made a fad, for they shoo from people's lives all the joy they ever had; let's discourage all the bores who go round to people's doors asking for all kinds of ores, for the bawbee and the scad.

Today's Talk

LIFE MORE ABUNDANTLY There is no more sad picture in this world than that of the one who looks upon his existence as something to be gotten rid of as soon as possible somehow.

On the other hand, there is no picture so inspiring as that of the one who simply bursts with love of life and all its goodness.

Life is very good to the one who is good to life.

I like that word abundant. How full of meaning! It fairly runs over with meaning. And how it thrills one to think of the life that is abundant with happy work and service.

I can think of no greater prayer to be uttered every morning and every evening than this: "Oh, God, help me to live life more abundantly!"

Folks who live abundant lives have no time for complaining, or finding fault, either with their lot or with the way that other people live.

Their one idea seems to be to add something, to give something—to leave something.

If every time we marked a yearly milestone, we should look back and could say: "Well, that is a much more abundant year in real things accomplished than any of the former years,"

I am sure that the toll of the years would leave no regret.

Life more abundantly—in work well done, in friendship well cemented, in service rendered for the pure love of having rendered it, in acts that have helped to make the world a better place in which to live.

Can you think of a better resolve for this year than to live life more abundantly?

BOOTLEGGER SHOT TO DEATH SUNDAY BY TWO GUNMEN

Police Seek Motive For Mysterious Killing in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 15.—While Martin Burke, convicted Pittsburgh bootlegger leader, lay dead in his home here today, shot to death Sunday night by two gunmen, police of half a dozen cities in Ohio and Pennsylvania were seeking the motive for the murder and searching for the slayers.

City detectives are working upon several theories including the belief that a rum runners feud was the cause of the killing. Another probable angle as a motive for this mystery murder was that Burke, having been convicted in the Cleveland Federal court for a big liquor deal in Akron, may have believed he had received the worst of it and was about to "sneak" on his associates and to prevent this exposure was killed. Police say their investigation show that Burke held a note for $100,000 issued by a prominent Pittsburgher and that within the last two or three weeks this note has been the subject of bitter quarrels.

Burke was called to his door last night and shot to death. The unidentified slayers escaped.

FLYING IS AS SAFE AS ANY OTHER MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Flying is now a recognized method of transportation and as safe as any other under proper conditions.

This is the opinion of Sir Keith Smith, noted British aviator, who, with his brother, the late Sir Ross Smith made the first England to Australia flight and who will next spring attempt a round the world flight.

"There should be stringent laws dealing with both the machines and the qualifications and training of the pilots," he declared when here recently making arrangements for oil and petrol stations in the Aleutian Islands and Alaska for his round the world flight.

"It is vitally important that the machines used for air transportation shall be right basically and mechanically," he added, "and likewise vitally essential that pilots' training shall be complete and broad enough to cover all conditions. If the machines and pilots are right practically all of the hazard is taken from flying and it is the coming method of transportation. In Europe the London-Paris and other continental lines are now accepted successes. In the United

WORLD FLIGHT EASY

According to Sir Keith, the apparently difficult task of flying around the world, is, after all, a simple one. "It is largely a matter of ground organization," he declared, "I have just come from China and Japan, where I made all ground arrangements for my flight through those countries. The arrangements made for the Australian trip two years ago will be duplicated on my round the world trip as far as I am concerned. Instead of flying to Australia, I will turn northward, skirting the Chinese coast and Japan to the Aleutian Islands."

"Such details as petrol and oil supply bases, spare part depots, landing places and flight distances are all worked out in advance. I believe in preparing for all contingencies. Then come what may I am prepared."

"I always carry approximately a 200-mile supply of oil and petrol in excess of my expected flight distance. Then if I am forced out of my way I have a reserve. Likewise emergency provisions are always on board. However, I do not aim to carry any excess weight. If anything can be left behind it is dispensed with."

"For the trip across the Pacific (the first time it has been attempted) I will carry about two weeks' condensed provisions—chocolate, milk cubes and bottles for hot drinks."

SCORNS HEATED SUIT

Sir Keith, who is a noted war aviator, has never worn one of the electrically heated aviation suits affected by some aviators and does not plan to do so on his round the world flight. They are too heavy and cumbersome, he said.

His plane will be equipped with a radio set and radio directional finding set. By getting into communication with two radio stations while in flight or while resting on the water—his plan is amphibian—he can get his location. He can also communicate with passing ships while in the air to ascertain position or weather information.

The Japanese and Chinese Governments are enthusiastic in assisting in plans for the round the world flight, the aviator reported.

He may do quite a bit of night flying on the 23,000 mile flight.

"All I need for night flying is a full moon," he said.

Sir Keith is now investigating the feasibility of crossing the Atlantic via Greenland, Iceland and Scotland. He plans to use this route in completing his round the world flight if reports on conditions are favorable.

SOCIETIES WOULD MAKE DOING WRONG QUITE IMPOSSIBLE

By JOHN L. SPIVAK,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

New York, Jan. 14.—From the moment you are born until the moment you die, you can't go wrong in New York.

No matter what you do or want to do, there is a society that will save you from doing it.

There are societies devoted to the saving of everything from babies, animals, and souls, to "indigent females," "friendless men" and "respectable girls." There is even one for the protection of non-smokers.

These societies, associations and organizations, numbering about 1,000, with their branches, save anything from souls to the Adirondack Mountains. The innermost and most inner affairs connected with your life are subjects for being saved.

The incidental things in your life are also saved. For instance, if you lose your civil liberties, there is a society to save them for you; should you need to be defended, there is a society to defend you, and, perchance, should you need to be imprisoned, society itself will oblige you.

There are societies to see to it that you are born properly, to protect you from getting bad milk when you are a baby, from being spanked when you grow older, from straying off the straight and narrow path when you mature, and from committing suicide when you should.

If you get sick, or drunk, or lost, or "pinched," there is a society that will save you. If you are Irish, Jewish, Armenian or Czech-Slovakian, and need relief, some one will relieve you.

There is a society to give you clothes when you lack them and another to take them away when you can spare them.

There is a society for free milk for Italy and temperance for Scandinavian sailors.

There is a society to save you from reading books that you shouldn't read, and from going to places where you oughtn't to go, to save you from vice, poverty, sickness and the grave.

But if you should finally escape all these societies and die, there is one that will see to it that you are given a proper burial. And then, if that isn't enough, there is another that will investigate the activities of your soul in the life beyond.

In short, you can't go wrong here. Ya gotta be saved!

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mouse-trap
Tho he live in the depths of the forest
The world will beat a path to his door."

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection.
Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only antiseptic, but rubefacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and this free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Adopt the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, sipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. If your head is stopped up, melt Vicks in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the vapors arising; also insert Vicks freely up the nostrils.

After your hot bath, get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel, so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—it is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery of Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication direct to these parts was in the form of vapors. Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making

Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses in the U. S. Dispensatory. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensatory on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial. It is employed for its antiseptic and astringent influence in coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPHOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very efficient."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, various forms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful healing, antiseptic properties."

CLOSE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES SUNDAY AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

The First M. E. Church closed Sunday its two weeks' series of evangelistic meetings.

The church was well filled both morning and evening at the final services. The chorus choir of 25 voices furnished excellent music. Professor Kurtz and Mr. W. E. Currie sang a duet in the morning.

At the morning service the text was an unusual one; Jeremiah 2:15 and the appeal was for immediate decision for Christ. "If it is hard to become a Christian today, it will not be easier tomorrow," said the preacher. "If you cannot do the easiest thing, how can you do the hardest thing? If day by day you cannot be at your best how can you expect to have a good record at the end of life?"

"You cannot carry on God's program by doing the thing that God knows will not work. If you have no desire for God today that makes you think you will have one tomorrow?"

"Now is the easiest time and now is the day of salvation. Flinch not today; stand true today and tomorrow you will be able to be conquerors. Meet the tests of life each day and you will be safe when the storm comes."

A substantial offering was received during the day for the services of Prof. Kurtz, the very efficient leader of the music during the meetings.

IS ELECTROCUTED IN MINE SATURDAY

The remains of Daniel Vance, 35, formerly of this city, who was accidentally killed at Whitman, West Virginia, Saturday, were shipped to this city Monday, and were taken to the home of his brother, Lindsey Vance, 1077 West Second Street. Mr. Vance met his death in a coal mine, near Whitman, West Virginia, Saturday morning at 11:30 o'clock, when he came into contact with an electric wire, in the mine shaft. With a companion he had entered the mine, the other miner leaving him for a time, and upon returning found Mr. Vance dead. Death had occurred instantly upon contact with the wire.

Mr. Vance was employed at the mine, as machine runner, at Mine No. 2, of the Island Creek Coal Company. He had resided at Whitman for the past seven years.

Mr. Vance was born in Adams County, coming to Xenia to reside, in 1904. He resided here until seven years ago when he left for West Virginia. He is survived by his wife, five children, has parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Vance of Whitman, West Virginia, formerly of this city, one brother, Lindsey Vance of this city and two sisters, Miss Nettie Whalen of Springfield and Miss Jennie Irons of Harshmanville, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Lindsey Vance, Tuesday afternoon, at one o'clock, with interment at Woodland Cemetery. Friends desiring to call may do so after six o'clock Monday evening.

TITANIUM IS LITTLE KNOWN BUT QUITE USEFUL IT IS SAID

Washington, Jan. 15.—Ask the average layman what titanium is and the probabilities are he will stare at you blankly a moment and wave his hand negatively. Yet titanium is the ninth most abundant element in the solid crust of the earth and according to the United States Bureau of Mines enters into the manufacture of many diverse materials ranging from gas mantles to armor plate and from false teeth to smoke screens used for concealment purposes in modern warfare.

U. S. Interested

Few elements have been accorded more attention by the bureau and developed greater interest in the past decade than titanium. The substantially pure metal has been difficult to isolate and thus far has been little employed commercially but the use of alloys and chemical compounds of titanium has increased notably in recent years.

Substantially pure titanium has a silvery white color, like that of polished steel. It is hard and brittle when cold, but at a low red heat is malleable and can be forged readily like iron.

Titanium and certain of its compounds are important factors in the manufacture of arc-lamp electrodes, filaments of incandescent lights and gas mantles. For use in the dyeing industry it was exploited first in England. Certain of the titanium salts are powerful mordants which produce brilliant and stable colors. Salts of titanium have been used also in dyeing shoe leather and do not embrittle the leather as do salts of iron.

Rutile, or titanium dioxide, is used for coloring glazes for pottery and enamels. A little rutile has been employed on making glass. The mineral also finds applications in making artificial teeth to produce the color required for matching.

Useful Pigment

The use of titanium for pigments has developed rapidly during the last seven years, and, in the opinion of

The housekeeper, as purchasing agent for the home, should study to become an intelligent buyer. I know of a woman who bought mercerized cotton fabric for pure silk! If you do not already know the various silk fabrics, this information will help you:

Bengaline: Very similar to cotton rep. It is woven entirely of silk but is often padded with wool or cotton. Fine for waists and dresses. Brocade: This is woven with raised figures on a plain ground. It is often a combination of plush and satin. Used for coats, dresses, and decoration of the home. Brocade is a kind of brocade, sometimes having wool figures in a silk background. Used chiefly for upholstery. Chenille is a cloth woven with a soft, fuzzy surface and is used extensively for curtains, table runners, pillow tops, and so on. Chiffon is a thin, transparent silk with a plain weave, familiar to us all. Crepe de Chine, too, needs no explanation. Foulard is extremely durable for dresses—as we all know. China, India and Japanese Silks are all very much alike. Jersey Cloth is a soft, knitted fabric used for gloves, dresses and suits. Crepe de Meteeor is very similar to Crepe de Chine in texture but its surface is more satiny. Moire is a waved or watered effect produced on plain or ribbed silk.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

Vashti Vernon Appears.

Chapter 78

We were all very subdued for some time after Helen's death. I knew I had chosen wisely when I decided to say nothing to Walter of her confession, but it was not easy for me to forget it. He was very quiet, often blaming himself because he had offered to take her home. Even his mother seemed to feel the awfulness of it even though she had so disliked Helen.

Of course the papers played it up with front page headlines. And Grace Harter said:

"The only good thing about it is that you were along, Doreen. If you hadn't been with them, the gossips would have had a nice time talking about Walt."

Poor girl—she was young to die, but she never would have been really happy—never in this life."

Gradually we ceased to talk of Helen. Walter had put away his unfinished picture, and had commenced the one he had talked of—Jack and me.

I had many delightful days in the studio, and we seemed drawn nearer together than ever before. But I did not flatter myself that Walter had really changed very much.

He would be his old irresponsible self. He had given up the idea of a studio party because of Helen's death. Said he had talked of it with her, and would feel that she knew he had gone on with it, and that it would hurt her.

Then one day when the picture of Jack and me was nearly finished, Walter came in fairly beaming:

"Out with it!" I said. "I know something has happened by your looks."

"I should say there had! You remember that beautiful Miss Vernon we met at Hot Springs? She is in New York. I met her on the street. She said she was intending to look us up. I wondered what I should do next, and she wants her portrait painted. I can hardly wait to begin it. She is so unusual the picture will be sure to make talk."

When shall you begin it?" I asked quietly, my heart sinking. As I have said before, I was far more jealous of a girl like Vashti Vernon, a wonderfully beautiful and attractive society girl, than of Helen Raiström, a model, and with a streak of commonness in her.

"Right away! And, Doreen, I wish you and the Mater would call on Miss Vernon. She is staying at the Ritz."

"I'll speak to Mrs. Page about it," I promised.

"You go anyway."

I thought of how indifferent Miss Vernon had been to me at the Springs how she had monopolized Walter and was tempted to refuse. Then I remembered my determination to be an understanding wife, to sympathize with Walt—in his work, and said:

"All right I'll go, but I think it would be very nice if your mother went along. You speak to her at dinner."

Walter did, with the result that she agreed to go with me. We had a pleasant call and Mrs. Page was enthusiastic over Vashti Vernon—her unusual beauty, her perfect self-possession.

Only to Grace Harter did I say anything of what was in my heart and then in a careless way.

"She's the loveliest thing I ever saw," I told her. "I expect Walter will lose his head over her. He nearly did at the Springs."

"Walter loves you, Doreen, yet he is terribly susceptible. I hoped for your sake he'd not get some lovely girl to paint for a while anyway. Oh, well! It's all in a life time, dear! It's his only failing. He doesn't drink or beat you."

"Perhaps it would be easier to bear than his flirtations," I said keeping my light tone.

Perhaps! Yet I don't believe Walter ever has had one really untrue thought. And now that he has Jack to think of as well—I'd trust him completely if I were you, Doreen. I wouldn't even think of danger with that girl.

Be your own quiet self, just as you have been, and you'll keep Walter's love against anyone. You're a sort of restful calming influence, and he knows it is what he needs."

"I guess you are right," I replied, thinking of the time when he had said:

"Thank God you're not temperamental!"

FRENCH RENEW DRIVE IN GERMANY

U. S. OFFICIALS DENY
NEW POLICY TOWARD EUROPE CONTEMPLATED

Strong Reports From Paris That This Country is About to Propose New Measures Without Ground.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Strong reports from Paris today that the United States is about to propose new measures to remedy the critical situation brought about by France's occupation of the Ruhr were met with equally strong official denial at the State Department.

The United States has not submitted any new proposals, it was said, nor is there any likelihood of this government's doing so until and unless there is a change in policy on the part of continental nations, chiefly France.

If Colonel Roland W. Boyden, the American unofficial observer on the reparations commission is considering making some remedial suggestions to the commission he is doing it on his own responsibility and not upon instructions from Secretary of State Hughes, officials said in response to reports that Boyden was to lay a proposition before the powers.

The suggestion was advanced that Col. Boyden might be preparing to formally submit to the reparations commission the so-called "Hughes plan" for an international commission of economic experts to survey the reparations tangle and recommend a solution.

The Hughes plan, so far as this government is aware, has never been officially placed before the reparations commission. It was communicated to Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium, through the usual diplomatic channels, but not to the reparations commission.

Colonel Boyden has been permitted a wide latitude in his representation of this government on the commission largely, it is said, because of the "unofficial" character of his standing.

His recent speech to the commission in which he opposed France's occupation of the Ruhr and suggested the need for a revision of the treaty of Versailles, was made without directions from the state department and officials here secured their first information concerning it from press dispatches. The speech however, was approved by President Harding and Secretary Hughes.

All reports of impending American moves abroad were met today with a reiteration of the American policy enunciated by both President Harding and Secretary Hughes—that the present time is not deemed propitious

GERMAN SITUATION
ONE OF GRAVE DANGER
AS FRENCH ADVANCE

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Despite the unanimity of national sentiment which is being vouchsafed the government, the situation growing out of the presence of armed French forces in parts of Germany previously unoccupied is considered a serious one, and nothing is suggested as to what line of further action is at the government's disposal.

One parliamentary leader referred not only to possible reaction from Paris to the German official attitude, the German government considering the treaty of Versailles abrogated, but also as of the opinion that the internal situation was fraught with grave danger.

Just now the government is giving serious consideration to the adoption of emergency economic measures calculated to meet the sudden turn in the situation throughout Germany without anticipating diplomatic and foreign economic ratifications, which may become urgent issues at an early date.

The reichstag approved the course of Chancellor Cuno and his nonpartisan cabinet by a vote of 283 to 12.

TORTURE RACK USED BY KLAN IS FOUND

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 15.—By calling Sheriff Fred L. Carpenter as a "surprise" witness, in the open hearing today, the state of Louisiana "burned the bridges" behind members of a "hooded mob" which smashed its way into the home of Alonzo L. Braddock, Morehouse parish farmer, to carry him away a prisoner last summer.

Braddock blamed this outrage on Ku Klux Klansmen and positively identified six members of the "mob". The crime is a capital offense with hanging as the penalty in Louisiana.

Sheriff Carpenter, self admitted member of the klan, was used by the state to prove that the "mob" did not act for parish authorities and did not have a search warrant when it broke into Braddock's house in the dead of the night.

The members whom Braddock identified were Captain J. K. Skipwith, Marvin Pickett, Kurd Pickett, Bent Pratt, Sam Cox, and Sam Eldridge, all well known residents. Carpenter declared he had once given Captain Skipwith verbal permission to raid the homes of several men suspected of making moonshine whiskey. He denied, however, that the "mob" had search warrants when it smashed its way into Braddock's home.

Court House, Bastrop, La., Jan. 15.—The "invisible court," which banished men to an exile far from family and friends, was the object of the state's investigation today at the open hearing on the brutal "hooded mob" murder.

The order of deportation issued against Davenport, it was revealed, brought on the series of "peace conferences" at which klansmen and other citizens met to plan steps for ending the community's "reign of terror". Prominent business men who were

GERMAN COMEDIAN
SPOOFS RUSSIANS

Berlin, Jan. 15.—Paul Morgan, noted German vaudeville comedian, is going around these days puffed up with pride because Soviet Russia has entered into diplomatic relations with him.

Morgan's chief pride used to be that he bore the name of Morgan. But that has been supplanted by the fact that a secretary of the Russian Embassy here recently called on him with a request that he quit telling stories about his alleged experiences with Tchitcherine at Genoa.

Morgan, who holds forth at a local cabaret, has been telling how, while dining with Tchitcherine at Genoa, he missed his watch. He thereupon, according to his tale, informed Tchitcherine, who, excusing himself for a few minutes, entered his secretary's room, and emerged with the missing time-piece.

"But he doesn't know I got it," explained Tchitcherine, as quoted by Morgan.

Whereupon the comedian made an expressive gesture that always brought down the house.

The other night a tall, pale, very much excited gentleman called on Morgan behind the scenes and, introducing himself as the secretary of the Russian Embassy here, demanded that the slander on his chief cease at once.

Morgan calmed him by telling him the story dates back to the days of Noah. And the cabaret press agent having seen the newspapers, the laugh is now on the Russian Embassy.

SLAIN BY BANDIT

Toledo, Jan. 15.—William H. Ennis, 67, a decorator, died in a hospital here as the result of an attack by two footpads who held him up in front of his home here. Ennis was deaf and it is believed by relatives that he did not hear the command of the thugs to put up his hands.

DEATH SATURDAY

Contractor Also Being Questioned Following Shooting

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—Ollie Chill, American league umpire, was questioned by the police in connection with the death of Edward J. McGregor, 28, found shot to death in an apartment house. Chill, according to the police, was one of three men found in the apartment when the officers broke in the door. The men declare they remember hearing two shots fired, but neither was able to say who did the shooting. A booze party, including several brawls and fights, preceded the shooting, according to a statement given to the police by Joseph F. Johnson, a taxicab driver, who says he had taken McGregor and the three men to the apartment. All were intoxicated, Johnson said. President Johnson of the American league announced that Chill had been released.

STRENGTHENING OF
RAILROAD CREDITS
AS AID TO MORE COAL

Washington, Jan. 15.—According to a report of a special committee of the American Railway association, filed with the United States coal commission, a way can be found to provide a more adequate and more reasonably priced coal supply for the nation in the strengthening of railroad credit and the maintenance of peaceful industrial relations.

If regulatory bodies and commissions will adopt "such an attitude toward railroads as will convince the public that money invested in railroads will receive a fair return," the report said, "carriers will be able to increase facilities to assure transportation of the supply, while prevention of strikes would allow regular production without congestion such as that now develops when consumers endeavor to take in all of a winter's supply during a comparatively few weeks."

The report pointed out that since 1910 the number of bituminous coal mines had more than doubled, while the output of coal per mine, figured on an annual basis, had decreased. This, it was said, demonstrated "inflation" in the industry and put a strain upon the railroads in that they were required to attempt to distribute cars among all the new mines and likewise to keep available an increasing reserve of cars and locomotives for serving mines that operated only on part time basis.

"Notwithstanding the fact that railroad facilities have increased in greater ratio than coal tonnage," the report said, "it has happened that the carriers have been unable to furnish transportation service for the traffic currently offered. In such situations the public insistently contends, and in fact the bituminous coal operators are doing so at the present time, that the facilities of the carriers are inadequate."

MISSING BANK TELLER RETURNS

Painesville, O., Jan. 15.—A. C. Flint, teller of a local bank, walked into his home here as mysteriously as he left it last Tuesday, since when a statewide search for him has been in progress. Mr. Flint came to Painesville from Dayton, where he said first realized his whereabouts since leaving here, according to W. G. Radcliff, manager of the bank. Flint is believed to have suffered from a nervous breakdown.

KILLED AT CROSSING

Toledo, Jan. 15.—William Zimmerman, a driver for the Toledo Transfer company, was killed instantly and the driver of another automobile was injured, probably fatally, when a passenger train wrecked both automobiles at a crossing here. The injured man is Otto Schaefer, 38.

MOVIE ACTRESS WOUNDED

Los Angeles, Jan. 15.—Priscilla Dean, motion picture star, was slightly wounded in the right shoulder, and Wong Foo, well known Chinese, narrowly escaped death when Ah Sing, a Chicago gun man, fired a shot that precipitated a tangle war in Universal City.

FORMER FRENCH PREMIER DIES

Paris, Jan. 15.—Alexandre Ribot, former premier and a minister in many French cabinets, died suddenly here. Death came two hours after his one day's illness had been diagnosed as not being of a serious character. M. Ribot's widow was Minnie Burch of Chicago.

MILITARY ACTIVITIES

Italy Protests Against Continued Independent Action of France in Rhineland—Forces Going Into Bochum.

Paris, Jan. 15.—French troops are advancing into Bochum, war minister Maginot announced this afternoon.

According to the army newspaper L'Echo de Paris, the activities of French troops in the Rhineland were resumed "as a reply to Berlin's refusal to pay the mine owners for coal turned over to the allies."

Premier Mussolini of Italy, was reported to have sent a note to Premier Poincare protesting vigorously against continued independent action in the Rhineland without consulting Italy. The note states that while Italy favors measures of control, she does not countenance seizure of private property.

SMALL INVESTORS
OVERSUBSCRIBE
GOVERNMENT ISSUE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The recent treasury offering of $300,000,000 in 4 1/2 per cent treasury notes, maturing Dec. 15, 1927, has been oversubscribed by about $200,000,000, according to an announcement by Secretary Mellon.

While detailed figures are not yet in the hands of treasury officials, it was declared that indications warranted the statement that the subscriptions were general and the results of the offering "entirely satisfactory."

The usual first-of-the-year reinvestment demand appears to have accounted for the heavy oversubscription, but figures available showed, it was said, that the bulk of the amounts offered had been taken by smaller investors. Approximately $235,000,000 originally offered was covered in subscriptions of less than $100,000, which is unusual in the sale of such securities, according to officials.

Although the subscription books closed Saturday night, the treasury announcement said that unregistered war savings certificates of the 1918 series and 4 per cent and 4 1/2 per cent victory notes, maturing in May, still will be accepted in exchange for the new notes up to the close of business tonight. This time limit includes exchange subscriptions actually in the mails at that time.

British officials are becoming suspicious that the Germans are voluntarily inciting the French to further occupation of German territory in hope of widening the breach between Britain and France. So far the German protests against occupation of the Ruhr have been ignored by Britain and in view of the growing suspicion it is unlikely that they will be answered soon.

The allies are awaiting new reparations proposals from the United States. It is expected that Roland W. Boyden, American observer on the inter-allied reparations commission, will present certain suggestions the same day Louis Barthou of France, chairman of the commission announces France's new conditions for a German indemnity moratorium.

Boyden was asked regarding the persistent reports that he would introduce new American indemnity proposals.

"Because of my position I cannot confirm the report or discuss it in any way," said the American observer.

It was understood from other sources that the American proposals already have been reduced to writing. They are believed to follow the main lines of secretary Hughes' plan, appealing to the British and French to accept an international committee of bankers and economists, empowered to draw up a workable compromise plan.

PROPOSES MOVIES
AS SCHOOL SUBJECT

Columbus, Jan. 15.—State Director of Education Riegel proposes that a class be created in high schools of the state to "study the movies." His plan, as outlined in a letter sent to school superintendents, contemplates organization in each high school of the state of a "better films committee" to review and report upon motion pictures showing at local theaters each week. Riegel suggests that "senior, sophomore and freshmen classes be called upon to do this work in turn, all reviewing to be bulletined, after approval by the English teachers, thus serving the double purpose of English composition and visual education."

HEAD NEARLY SEVERED
IN CUTTING AFFRAY

Levi Drake, 35, of 71 Home Avenue, will appear before Judge E. D. Smith in Police Court Friday morning to answer to a charge of cutting William Howells, 30, of Stelton Road, who is in Espey Hospital with a deep wound in his neck.

Howells was stabbed while he was walking along Whiteman street between Main and Second streets about seven o'clock Saturday evening. Surgeons at the hospital say he will recover. Police could not find Drake after the cutting affair Saturday but he appeared at Police Headquarters Monday morning with his attorney H. L. Johnson, and gave himself up. He was arraigned on a drunk and disorderly charge and his bond fixed at $200 for appearance in court Friday morning.

Although his head was more than halfway severed from his body, Howells walked almost four squares before summoning aid. Although Howells was extremely reticent when questioned by Police, it is said that he was attacked from the rear, the knife stabbing him first in the back of the neck near the spine and then passing around the right side of his neck to the front and past the "Adam's Apple," describing more than a half-circle about two inches deep. The knife fortunately jumped over the jugular vein.

After the cutting, Howells applied his handkerchief to the wound to staunch the blood, and walked north on Whiteman to Market, east on Market to Collier and south on Collier to Main, where he met William Quirk, and asked to be taken to a physician. Quirk took the injured man to the office of Dr. George Davis, East Main Street, and Dr. Davis rushed him to the Espey Hospital. Surgeons here cut out one of the worst they every had to take care of, and that Howells had the appearance that his head was about to fall from his neck. Numerous stitches were then to close the wound and he is expected to recover.

After the cutting Drake is said to have gone to his home and obtaining his automobile, left the city with his wife, Police, who visited the house a few minutes afterwards found no trace of him. Howells is said to have refused to tell police whom he thought his assailant was.

PRICE OF MARK FIXED

XENIA HIGH FIVE DEFEATS BEXLEY

Coach Earl Burgner's Central High basketball team climbed back into victory column Saturday night by defeating Bexley High of Columbus 20 to 15.

Showing marked improvement over their play of a week ago, especially in locating the net, the Burgner protégés revived hopes of fans for a winning combination that will yet make itself heard from.

The blue and white performers played better basketball at Washington Friday than they did a week before, and they continued to hit this stride in the Saturday night contest with the Columbus five. The game itself was easy to look at, as the teams were fairly close together most of the way, and there was the element of uncertainty throughout the play.

The visitors stepped off to a stender lead a half-minute after the pasting had gotten underway, when Hieronymus, the lengthy center, tossed a shot from the foul line. His free-line basket a moment later gave his team a two-point lead, which was overcome by two fouls by LeSourd. The teams were tied again at four-all baskets by Russell and Schwab, but after that Xenia assumed a lead that was never cut down.

The half ended with the score 15 to 9, but the visitors came back with a more vicious attack in the second session, scoring six points to five captured by the locals. The local athletes mixed in the pass-work strenuously throughout the game and did not miss as many shots as last week, showing the telling effect of last week's drilling. "There is still room for improvement, however," said Coach Burgner, after the game. Captain Currie, Schwab and LeSourd starred for Xenia, while Russell and Hieronymus played best for the Columbus quintet. The lineup and summary:

The Misses Petzinger, Miss Poole and Miss Hieronymus starred for the Columbus team. The game was played under boys' rules. The lineup and summary:

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS TO GIVE PROGRAM ON JANUARY 22

Under the leadership of deputy scout commissioner, Leigh M. Nisbet, both Boy Scout Troops of the city are making elaborate arrangements for the program to be staged for the Dayton Scoutmasters' association, January 22 at seven o'clock, at the First Presbyterian Church, this city.

Members of the two Troops friends and parents of the scouts together with the members of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of Xenia will be present for the program, which will consist of a demonstration in scouting. The evening's program will open with battalion formation, in charge of Scoutmaster Nisbet, followed by the presentation of colors, the recitation of the oath and law in concert, and the return of colors. Both troops will then be dismissed to perform their individual "stunts." Troop One to stage the competitive drill, Troop Two, under the scoutmastership of Walter R. Jobe, to stage the pack inspection demonstration. Dr. W. A. Galloway will stage a first aid demonstration with the aid of several older scouts who have had practical experience during the last two years. At the request of Mr. Nisbet, the Dayton court of honor is going to install all scouts who have promoted themselves since the affiliation with Dayton. Scott Pierce, chairman of the Dayton court, is making plans to have a formal presentation of awards on this night. Two eagles, one star, 60 merit badges will be awarded on the occasion, six first class scouts to be admitted to the tribe of Wigwags, a tribe organized in Xenia for advanced scouts.

The presentation of the Scouts individual shields is also looked forward to as an occasion of importance, as every scout in the troop has his record told in picture form on his shield. Following this presentation, there will be an inspection of quarters by the visiting Daytonians.

The co-operation of business men, and clubs of the city is said by Scouts to be largely contributive to the success of the organization. The court of honor committee of the Xenia Scouts —at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases with every meal! Kellogg's Bran is nature's most wonderful food. It is scientifically prepared to relieve suffering humanity from constipation and it will do that as no other food can! Don't take a chance of "getting away" with constipation—IT WILL GET YOU! Don't ruin your health with pills and cathartics—they are as dangerous as constipation itself and give but temporary relief, at the very best!

What you should do for your family and for yourself is to serve Kellogg's Bran every day, in any one of several attractive ways, and fight constipation as you have never fought it before! AND YOU WILL WIN.

In the first place, Kellogg's Bran is delicious in its nut-like flavor, adding greatly to any cereal with which it is used. Eat bran as a cereal with hot milk, or mix it with hot cereal before serving. Another method is to cook Kellogg's Bran with cereal. In each case add two tablespoons of bran for each person. A popular way is to sprinkle bran on hot or cold cereal. Bran makes wonderful bakery products. Recipes are printed on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is served in leading hotels, restaurants and clubs. It is sold by all grocers.

Keep The Egg Basket Full!

The feed elements that make whites of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't keep the egg basket full. The usual method of feeding mostly grain makes yolks but not enough whites to complete the eggs.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance) as follows:

	Yolks	Whites
Purina Hen Chow	247.49	142.11
Purina Chicken Chowder	182.05	282.55
Combined Ration	429.54	424.66

These Purina chows not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary chows.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and they are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee

more eggs or money back

on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Hen Chow as directed. You take no risk.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $1.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—infamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GENERAL BUSINESS AT START OF 1923 IS GOOD; PREDICT INCREASE

Cleveland, Jan. 15.—General business at the beginning of 1923 is good and getting better, says the Cleveland Trust Company, in its business bulletin for January issued today. The year will probably be one of business prosperity in America, with increasing profits, rising wages, rising prices and advancing costs of living, the bank believes.

Among the factors tending toward a continuation of prosperity there are four of special importance, the review continues, "the first is the momentum of the present movement of business prosperity. Every industry is more prosperous than it was a year ago. Profits are higher than they were last winter but not so large as to destroy business caution.

"The second important factor is the still unfilled shortages that came into existence as a result of the war and recent depression. Conspicuous among these are the shortages of building construction, railroad equipment, passenger and commercial automobiles and stocks of miscellaneous merchandise sold by retail stores.

"The third constructive factor consists of the generally rising prices of wholesale commodities. It is a practically invariable rule that when prices rise, business activities increase and when prices fall, business slows down. The advance of prices promises to go considerably further before it halts.

"The fourth factor making for further extension of business activity consists of the abundance of credit. Interest rates are now low.

Four factors are also noted as threatening to develop into forces that may limit business activity.

1—Bad economic and financial situation in Europe, which promises to become more actual stores.

2—Strong possibility of another coal strike in the spring.

3—Shortage of labor.

4—Shortage of transportation.

Unemployment has almost disappeared. Wages have advanced, prices have advanced but not far enough to cut down buying under these conditions. It is reasonable to look for further general advance in business.

MUSCLE SHOALS, NOT QUEST FOR PRESIDENCY, IS FORD'S PRINCIPAL CONCERN NOW.

Mr. Ford was seen and talked with at the office of the Dearborn Independent in the experimental plant at Dearborn, Mich., a prosperous little town about ten miles west of Detroit. His home, about half a mile from the plant, is but a short distance from the old Ford farmhouse, where he was born fifty-seven years ago.

"My proposition is in—it has been there for eighteen months" he said, "and the Government can take it or leave it, but in the event Congress rejects it, you may be sure of an even more determined effort upon my part to save Muscle Shoals for the public and prevent its exploitation by private interests for private benefit."

"I have a vivid picture in my mind of a city all around Muscle Shoals, up and down the valley, with power being developed in the river sufficient for the employment of at least 800,000 men, heads of families," he said, adding: "At our Detroit plant we employ one man for every one-horse-power we develop. If we get 800,000 horsepower at Muscle Shoals, and that is what the two dams will generate, it means that we must have 800,000 men to utilize that power."

"While the manufacture, sale and distribution of commercial fertilizer to farmers and other users constitutes one of the principal considerations in my plans, we have other developments planned should Congress intrust me with the leasehold," said Mr. Ford.

Here an interruption was made in inquiry as to why he had not offered to buy the properties at Muscle Shoals and Mr. Ford replied:

"I would not buy what ought to belong to the Government. Yes, I am frank to say that I favor Government ownership. I would willingly develop it to show what could be done with it, but the Government should always own it."

Mr. Ford continued his "picture" of Muscle Shoals as it would be under his control. "One thing we have been figuring on establishing down there in the Tennessee River Valley is some cotton mills," he said. "We use 200,000 yards of cloth daily in our plants, and only recently a cotton mill was offered us. It had a capacity of 2000 yards, about 1 per cent of what we need."

"Another installation I have thought of to employ Muscle Shoals power is an aluminum plant. There is no limit to the amount of aluminum that could be used in automobile building. In fact, the best use to make of aluminum is for automobiles, rather than in general industry."

"A third employment of the power we develop would be for energy to operate transportation up and down the river, a distance of from sixty to seventy miles in the area we are operating."

Mr. Ford paused, and said there were other industries under consideration for establishment at Muscle Shoals, as the automobile business was one that took in all the arts. He spoke of rows of workmen's homes, with gardens along miles of countryside—a long city instead of a round city.

He talked of so many jobs being thrown open, and what was in the back of his head as a practical demonstration of water power used in a fashion to build up new cities planned along lines that precluded any congestion in tenements or fetid squalor.

"That is our dream," he remarked. "I have found in experience that when a person turns to face in the right direction, the best way always shows up. As I always tell my son, as long as we are moved by a desire to do the most good for the most people, there will always be money enough to carry our plans."

THE BREAK WITH FRANCE.

As French bayonets go into the Ruhr, the few American bayonets left in Europe leave the Rhine. The American drift toward this has been swift and certain and the announcement of the decision both dramatic and emphatic.

There was to have been no American "pressure," but "moral suasion" or whatever we used appears to have failed. Therefore, in the view of the Administration, now is "an expedient time" to quit the Rhine. Something, unrevealed as yet, happened in Paris late Tuesday. The American mind was made up within twenty-four hours thereafter.

American disapproval of the French policy could hardly be made more emphatic. Where flew the French, British, Belgian, Italian, and American flags the Stars and Stripes have gone. The "solidarity" along the Rhine is broken. France now knows that so far as America is concerned she goes alone into the Ruhr, that America disapproves of the march and is fearful of what may come out of it.

America's action is taken more in sorrow than in anger. We must regard France as an erring but sorely tried comrade whose troubles have driven her to do a thing likely to injure Europe, the world and herself. We can and do understand the French viewpoint; but we regret and deprecate it, not on Germany's account, but in dread of what may result for France.

That this opens a breach between France and America cannot be denied. It has been coming a long time. As far back as the Washington Conference France was making a bad impression in America. Her apologists and even the devoted "Tiger" could not wipe it out. She may now be expected to reject the still unratified Washington treaties, and our withdrawal makes it improbable that she will be able to turn to us in any reparations settlement.

France has repulsed her best friend, America. She is estranged from her comrade, Great Britain. She has put aside the restraining hands of all the world and is about to gamble her future, and it may be the future of Europe, on the turn of the German card.—Public Ledger.

A LITTLE STORY ABOUT PYLE'S PEARLINE.

Under the caption, "Didn't have to Advertise," an advertising agency recalls the disappearance of Pearline from the market, and the reason for its eclipse, and then points the moral of the story as follows:

"Do you remember Pyle's Pearline? Once it was the most popular washing powder in America."

"In 1907 Pyle's Pearline ceased advertising. They did not have to advertise, advertising was no longer necessary. Pearline was a good product and everybody knew about it."

"In 1914 the Procter & Gamble Co. bought Pyle's Pearline at their own figure to save it from bankruptcy."

"In seven years the public forgot Pearline. You have got to do more than make a good product. You must tell your dealer and consumer, and keep on telling them the advantage of your article."

"If people did not die, if people did not move, if new generations did not grow up, if customs and habits did not change, if people were not open to suggestion, and receptive to new ideas, then there would be no need, no use in advertising."

"But until then advertising is the surest safeguard for the established product, the most certain hope for the new idea."

THE BOBBED HEAD FAD.

Every few days have a letter from a correspondent asking whether bobbed hair is going out of fashion. I can't say that it is, indeed, I think it's more popular than ever. I really think that it is taking its place among recognized hair dressing styles, as much as plaits or curls or smoothly parted hair have taken their places. Of course, some people will object to this idea—but why not? In a day when every woman wore her hair parted in the middle and sleeked down each side think what a future the first appearance of the fluffy pompadour must have made! Just so with the short hair today. Bobbed hair has much to recommend it. It's youthful, attractive to many types of faces. Above all, cutting is very good for the hair. I know any number of cases where a few years of bobbing has saved a head of hair from going gray or falling out.

The worst of it is, the uncomfortable in-between stage when the hair is growing again. Well, this stage needn't last very long. For four or five months you can keep the hair curled, which will take up its increasing length; you can, before you let the sides grow, let the top part grow quite long, brushing it back from the face and holding it in place with a comb. It can all grow almost to the shoulders, and look well, if curled and held lightly by a net.

Then you can begin brushing it back from the face, rolling the sides under and holding them with pins or a comb, rolling the back upwards and tucking the ends under with another comb—even wearing for a few months an artificial bun to hold it in place.

Bess:—The reason why your hands are always cold is due to a poor circulation. You must be in need of thorough building up and should consult your doctor.

Hope:—The only thing to do about this hair is to extract the coarsest ones by using the blunt end tweezers; then bleach the finest hair with peroxide of hydrogen. The article you mention acts like a shave and the result is a new and coarser growth all the time.

Bobby:—When the scalp is too oily it shows there is an abnormal condition, but it may be corrected by massaging the scalp every day, as that so improves the circulation as to regulate the secretions of the skin. A good hair tonic with the massage about three times each week will also help.

MONEY WANTED.

Every day some plaintive gent at my humble home appears, asking me to give a cent I have earned in sweat and tears; "Dig up, in the name of Pete," says the gent, in accents sweet; "we are building a retreat for consumptive auctioneers." Every hour some drivesmith bold to my cottage gallivants; for my stock of minted gold and my store of groats he pants; "Dig up from your treasure chest," is the drivesmith's stern behest; "we would build a place of rest for decayed and shopworn aunts." Long ago when people came on an errand of this kind, they were backward in the game, to its faults they were not blind; now the drivesmith doesn't plead; he is arrogant, indeed; "Hand us out the chicken-feed," is his dictum, unrefined. "If you do not promptly dig," says the man who asks my wad, "then your name in letters big will be advertised abroad; to the confines of the state you will have a record great as the cheapest sort of skate, as a piker and a fraud." Let us stop these endless drives which the wartime made a fad, for they shoo from people's lives all the joy they ever had; let's discourage all the bores who go round to people's doors asking for all kinds of ores, for the bawbee and the sad.

Today's Talk

LIFE MORE ABUNDANTLY

There is no more sad picture in this world than that of the one who looks upon his existence as something to be gotten rid of as soon as possible somehow.

On the other hand, there is no picture so inspiring as that of the one who simply bursts with love of life and all its goodness.

Life is very good to the one who is good to life.

I like that word abundant. How full of meaning! It fairly runs over with meaning. And how it thrills one to think of the life that is abundant with happy work and service.

I can think of no greater prayer to be uttered every morning and every evening than this: "Oh, God, help me to live life more abundantly!"

Folks who live abundant lives have no time for complaining, or finding fault, either with their lot or with the way that other people live.

Their one idea seems to be to add something, to give something—to leave something.

If every time we marked a yearly milestone, we should look back and could say: "Well, that is a much more abundant year in real things accomplished than any of the former years."

I am sure that the toll of the years would leave no regret.

Life more abundantly—in work well done, in friendship well cemented, in service rendered for the pure love of having rendered it, in acts that have helped to make the world a better place in which to live.

Can you think of a better resolve for this year than to live life more abundantly?

BOOTLEGGER SHOT TO DEATH SUNDAY BY TWO GUNMEN

Police Seek Motive For Mysterious Killing in Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 15.—While Martin Burke, convicted Pittsburgh millionaire bootlegger leader, lay dead in his home here today, shot to death Sunday night by two gunmen, police of half a dozen cities in Ohio and Pennsylvania were seeking the motive for the murder and searching for the slayers.

City detectives are working upon several theories including the belief that a rum runners feud was the cause of the killing. Another probable angle as a motive for this mystery murder was that Burke, having been convicted in the Cleveland Federal court for a big liquor deal in Akron, may have believed he had received the worst of it and was about to "sneak" on his associates and to prevent this exposure was killed. Police say their investigation show that Burke held a note for $100,000 issued by a prominent Pittsburgher and that within the last two or three weeks this note has been the subject of bitter quarrels.

Burke was called to his door last night and shot to death. The unidentified slayers escaped.

FLYING IS AS SAFE AS ANY OTHER MEANS OF TRANSPORTATION

San Francisco, Jan. 1.—Flying is now a recognized method of transportation and as safe as any other under proper conditions.

This is the opinion of Sir Keith Smith, noted British aviator, who, with his brother, the late Sir Ross Smith made the first England to Australia flight and who will next spring attempt a round the world flight.

"There should be stringent laws dealing with both the machines and the qualifications and training of the pilots," he declared when here recently making arrangements for oil and petrol stations in the Aleutian Islands and Alaska for his round the world flight.

"It is vitally important that the machines used for air transportation shall be right basically and mechanically," he added, "and likewise essential that pilots' training shall be complete and broad enough to cover all conditions. If the machines and pilots are right practically all of the hazard is taken from flying and it is the coming method of transportation. In Europe the London-Paris and other continental lines are now accepted successes. In the United

WORLD FLIGHT EASY

According to Sir Keith, the apparently difficult task of flying around the world, is, after all, a simple one. "It is largely a matter of ground organization," he declared, "I have just come from China and Japan, where I made all ground arrangements for my flight through those countries. The arrangements made for the Australian trip two years ago will be duplicated on my round the world trip as far as Asia. I will turn northward, skirting the Chinese coast and Japan to the Aleutian Islands."

"Such details as petrol and oil supply bases, spare part depots, landing places and flight distances are all worked out in advance. I believe in preparing for all contingencies. Then come what may I am prepared."

"I always carry approximately a 200-mile supply of oil and petrol in excess of my expected flight distance. Then if I am forced out of my way I have a reserve. Likewise emergency provisions are always on board. However, I do not aim to carry any excess weight. If anything can be left behind it is dispensed with."

"For the trip across the Pacific (the first time it has been attempted) I will carry about two weeks' condensed provisions—chocolate, milk cubes and bottles for hot drinks."

SCORNS HEATED SUIT

Sir Keith, who is a noted war aviator, has never worn one of the electrically heated aviation suits affected by some aviators and does not plan to do so on his round the world flight. They are too heavy and cumbersome, he said.

His plane will be equipped with a radio set and radio directional finding set. By getting into communication with two radio stations while in flight or while resting on the water—his plan is amphibian—he can get his location. He can also communicate with passing ships while in the air to ascertain position or weather information.

The Japanese and Chinese Governments are enthusiastic in assisting in plans for the round the world flight, the aviator reported.

He may do quite a bit of night flying on the 23,000 mile flight.

"All I need for night flying is a full moon," he said.

Sir Keith is now investigating the feasibility of crossing the Atlantic via Greenland, Iceland and Scotland. He plans to use this route in completing his round the world flight if reports on conditions are favorable.

SOCIETIES WOULD MAKE DOING WRONG QUITE IMPOSSIBLE

By JOHN L. SPIVAK,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent.

New York, Jan. 15.—From the moment you are born until the moment you die, you can't go wrong in New York.

No matter what you do or want to do, there is a society that will save you from doing it.

There are societies devoted to the saving of everything from babies, animals, and souls, to "indigent females," "friendless men" and "respectable girls." There is even one for the protection of non-smokers.

These societies, associations and organizations, numbering about 1,000, with their branches, save anything from souls to the Adirondack Mountains. The innermost and most inner affairs connected with your life are subjects for being saved.

The incidental things in your life are also saved. For instance, if you lose your civil liberties, there is a society to save them for you; should you need to be defended, there is a society to defend you, and, perchance, should you need to be imprisoned, society itself will oblige you.

There are societies to see to it that you are born properly, to protect you from getting bad milk when you are a baby, from being spanked when you grow older, from straying off the straight and narrow path when you mature, and from committing suicide when you should.

If you get sick, or drunk, or lost, or "pinched," there is a society that will save you. If you are Irish, Jewish, Armenian or Czechoslovakian, and need relief, some one will relieve you.

There is a society to give you clothes when you lack them and another to take them away when you can spare them.

There is a society for free milk for Italy and temperance for Scandinavian sailors.

There is a society to save you from reading books that you shouldn't read, and from going to places where you oughtn't to go, to save you from vice, poverty, sickness and the grave.

But if you should finally escape all these societies and die, there is one that will see to it that you are given a proper burial. And then, if that isn't enough, there is another that will investigate the activities of your soul in the life beyond.

In short, you can't go wrong here. Ya gotta be saved!

A Quarter Century Of Service

"If a man write a better book or preach a better sermon or build a better mouse-trap, he will live in the depths of the forest. The world will beat a path to his door."

25 years ago a small druggist—in a small town—discovered a new way—an "external" way—to treat colds. So Vicks was born.

And for a quarter of a century, in ever increasing numbers, the world has beaten a path to its door.

Until today more than 17 million jars go out yearly to serve the people of this land.

Avoid Influenza—Grip—Pneumonia

Apply Vicks to help avoid infection.
Use Vicks at the first sign of an oncoming cold.

MOST medical authorities now agree that Colds, Grip, Influenza and Pneumonia are all germ diseases—most commonly spread by breathing in the germs. If the system is in good shape—the membrane of the air passages in a healthy condition—these germs do not breed.

In fact the germs of all of these diseases are frequently found in perfectly healthy persons. It is only when the bodily resistance is lowered—as by a cold for instance—that they are able to harm us.

Avoid Sneezers and Coughers

It is best to keep away from the sneezers and coughers in the street cars and public places, or if you must meet them, insert some Vicks in the nostrils before you start out. On returning home, melt a little Vicks in a tin cup or a spoon and inhale the vapors.

Opposed to Bacteria

The ingredients of Vicks are not only antiseptic, but rubefacient—that is, they summon the blood to the tissues where applied and this free blood circulation is nature's best method of repelling germ infection. Also Vicks spreads a protective film over the membrane and furthermore is opposed to the growth of bacteria. In short, we believe you have a much better chance to avoid infection by these numerous germs if you have Vicks in your nose.

Adopt the DIRECT treatment for all cold troubles

ABSORBED, like a liniment, and, at the same time, INHALED, as a vapor, Vicks reaches immediately the congested, inflamed air passages.

Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

Attack a Cold Immediately

When you feel a cold coming on, go right home. Take a laxative. Make some hot lemonade, then take a hot bath—as hot as you can stand. Stay in the tub 30 minutes, slipping slowly several glasses of the lemonade. If your head is stopped up, melt Vicks in a spoon or tin cup and inhale the vapors arising; also insert Vicks freely up the nostrils.

After your hot bath, get into bed, with a hot water bottle at your feet, and pile on blankets. After an hour's sweat, dry thoroughly with a rough towel, apply Vicks over throat and chest, rub in well until the skin is red, and then spread on thickly and cover with one or two thicknesses of hot flannel cloth. Get into bed again between dry sheets. Leave the bedclothing loose about the neck, like a funnel, so that the rising vapors may be freely inhaled. It is an obstinate cold, indeed, that will resist such treatment. If it does, call a physician.

Acts Two Ways At Once

Vicks is of benefit in cold troubles in two ways. 1st—it is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus helping to relieve the soreness, loosen the phlegm and make the breathing less difficult. 2nd—At the same time the ingredients, released as vapors by the body heat, are taken with each breath directly into the congested, inflamed air passages.

A Vapor Lamp in Salve Form

Vicks is the discovery by Mr. L. Richardson, a North Carolina druggist. He realized that cold troubles were affections of the respiratory organs and that the only way to get medication direct to these parts was in the form of vapors. Mr. Richardson finally worked out the process for making

Vicks, so made that the body heat releases the volatile ingredients in the form of vapors. Vicks really is "a vapor lamp in salve form."

The Ingredients of Vicks

Since the dawn of history mankind has been searching nature for remedies against cold troubles. The knowledge gained thru a thousand years has come down to us today. Vicks contains the best known remedies for these troubles, some of them of great antiquity. Menthol, for instance, comes from Oil of Peppermint which was grown in Egypt three thousand years ago and whose virtues are described in the old Icelandic books of the 13th century.

The highest authority on drugs and their uses in the U. S. Dispensatory. We give below a few extracts from the Dispensatory on some of the ingredients in Vicks.

MENTHOL—"It is actively anti-bacterial. It is employed for its antiseptic and anesthetic influence in coryza, pharyngitis and laryngitis."

CAMPHOR—"Has a peculiar and agreeable effect on the mucous membrane—relieves congestion and inflammation—is a powerful stimulant to the respiratory centers."

OIL OF EUCALYPTUS—"Germicidal, antiseptic and stimulant—largely used in chronic bronchitis and infections of the upper respiratory tract—its vapors are very efficient."

OIL OF THYME—"This drug is a powerful antiseptic with wonderful healing properties, especially in congestion and catarrhal conditions of the nose and throat."

OIL OF TURPENTINE—"Its vapors are an excellent remedy for, and highly beneficial in, various forms of bronchial and lung troubles—has powerful healing, antiseptic properties."

MR. LOUIS KLINGER, WESTERVILLE, O.

Longest Trip Since Childhood Was to Go to Cleveland by Canal Boat. Gives Ka-di-ok Full Credit for His Present State of Good Health.

The numerous statements of local residents published daily, ought to convince the most skeptical that Ka-di-ok is an unusual remedy of real merit. Ka-di-ok, which was comparatively unknown until a short time ago, is now enjoying a steady and increasing demand and is outselling every other remedy of its kind in this section of the country. The plain reason for this is that Ka-di-ok gives general satisfaction.

Mr. Louis Klinger, well-known farmer, whose postoffice address is Flint Station, Westerville, R. R. No. 2, in speaking of Ka-di-ok, says: "I was born in Germany, 73 years ago, and was brought here when I was a child; my father helped to build the Statehouse and I remember Columbus when it was a real country town. I have never had occasion to travel and have never been outside of Ohio. The longest trip I ever took was to go to Cleveland by canal boat and that was over thirty years ago. Some three or four years ago I commenced to have trouble with my stomach and kidneys and also attacks of rheumatism which bothered me a great deal. I could find no way to overcome the trouble until recently when I commenced taking Ka-di-ok; this medicine certainly helped me; I get around all right now and eat hearty and sleep sound with no more aches or pains. I don't expect to feel as well as I did when I was young, but this Ka-di-ok has given me new strength and has actually made me feel ten years younger. No medicine could give any better results than Ka-di-ok gave me, and I feel very grateful for it."

Ka-di-ok can be obtained at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, Xenia.

CLOSE EVANGELISTIC SERVICES SUNDAY AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH

The First M. E. Church closed Sunday its two weeks' series of evangelistic meetings.

The church was well filled both morning and evening at the final services. The chorus of 25 voices furnished excellent music. Professor Kurtz and Mr. W. E. Currie sang a duet in the morning.

At the morning service the text was an unusual one; Jeremiah 2:15 and the appeal was for immediate decision for Christ. "If it is had to become a Christian today, it will not be easier tomorrow," said the preacher. "If you cannot do the easiest thing, how can you do the hardest thing? If day by day you cannot be at your best how can you expect to have a good record at the end of life?"

"You cannot carry on God's program by doing the thing that God knows will not work. If you have no desire for God today what makes you think you will have one tomorrow?"

"Now is the easiest time and now is the day of salvation. Finish not today; stand firm today and tomorrow you will be able to be conquerors. Meet the tests of life each day and you will be safe when the storm comes."

A substantial offering was received during the day for the services of Prof. Kurtz, the very efficient leader of the music during the meetings.

IS ELECTROCUTED IN MINE SATURDAY

The remains of Daniel Vance, 35, formerly of this city, who was accidentally killed at Whitman, West Virginia, Saturday, were shipped to this city Monday, and were taken to the home of his brother, Lindsey Vance, 1077 West Second Street, Mr. Vance met his death in a coal mine, near Whitman, West Virginia, Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, when he came into contact with an electric wire, in the mine shaft. With a companion he had entered the mine, the other miner leaving him for a time, and upon returning found Mr. Vance dead. Death had occurred instantly upon contact with the wire.

Mr. Vance was employed at the mine, as machine runner, at Mine No. 3, of the Island Creek Coal Company. He had resided at Whitman for the past seven years.

Mr. Vance was born in Adams County, coming to Xenia to reside, in 1904. He resided here until seven years ago when he left for West Virginia. He is survived by his wife, five children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Vance of Whitman, West Virginia, formerly of this city, one brother, Lindsey Vance of this city and two sisters, Miss Nettie Whalen of Springfield and Miss Jennie Irons of Harshmanville, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held from the home of Lindsey Vance, Tuesday afternoon, at one o'clock, with interment at Woodland Cemetery. Friends desiring to call may do so after six o'clock Monday evening.

TITANIUM IS LITTLE KNOWN BUT QUITE USEFUL IT IS SAID

Washington, Jan. 15.—Ask the average layman what titanium is and the probabilities are he will stare at you blankly a moment and wave his hand negatively. Yet titanium is the ninth most abundant element in the solid crust of the earth and according to the United States Bureau of Mines enters into the manufacture of many diverse materials ranging from gas mantles to armor plate and from false teeth to smoke screens used for concealment purposes in modern warfare.

U. S. Interested

Few elements have been accorded more attention by the bureau and developed greater interest in the past decade than titanium. The substantially pure metal has been difficult to isolate and thus far has been little employed commercially but the use of alloys and chemical compounds of titanium has increased notably in recent years.

Substantially pure titanium has a silvery white color, like that of polished steel. It is hard and brittle when cold, but at a low red heat is malleable and can be forged readily like iron.

Titanium and certain of its compounds are important factors in the manufacture of arc-lamp electrodes, filaments of incandescent lights and gas mantles. For use in the dyeing industry it was exploited first in England. Certain of the titanium salts are powerful mordants which produce brilliant and stable colors. Salts of titanium have been used also in dyeing shoe leather and do not embrittle the leather as do salts of iron.

Rutile, or titanium dioxide, is used for coloring glazes for pottery and enamels. A little rutile has been employed on making glass. The mineral also finds applications in aiding artificial teeth to produce the color required for matching.

Useful Pigment

The use of titanium for pigments has developed rapidly during the last seven years, and, in the opinion of

The housekeeper, as purchasing agent for the home, should study to become an intelligent buyer. I know of a woman who bought mercerized cotton fabric for pure silk! If you do not already know the various silk fabrics, this information will help you:

Bengaline: Very similar to cotton rep. It is woven entirely of silk but is often padded with wool or cotton. Fine for waists and dresses. Brocade: this is woven in raised figures on a plain ground. It is often a combination of plush and satin. Used for coats, dresses, and decoration of the home. Brocade is a kind of brocade, sometimes having wool figures in a silk background. Used chiefly for upholstery. Chenille is a cloth woven with a soft, fuzzy surface and is used extensively for curtains, table runners, pillow tops, and so on. Chiffon is a thin, transparent silk with a plain weave, familiar to us all. Crepe de Chine, too, needs no explanation. Foulard is extremely durable for dresses—as we all know. China, India and Japanese Silks are all very much alike. Jersey Cloth is a soft, knitted fabric used for gloves, dresses and suits. Crepe de Meteor is very similar to Crepe de Chine in texture but its surface is more satiny. Moire is a waved or watered effect produced on plain or ribbed silk.

Chapters From A Woman's Life

BY JANE PHELPS

Vashti Vernon Appears.

Chapter 78

We were all very subdued for some time after Helen's death. I knew I had chosen wisely when I decided to say nothing to Walter of her confession, but it was not easy for me to forget it. He was very quiet, often blaming himself because he had offered to take her home. Even his mother seemed to feel the awfulness of it even though she had so disliked Helen.

Of course the papers played it up with front page headlines. And Grace Harter said:

"The only good thing about it is that you were alone, Doreen. If you hadn't been with them, the gossips would have had a nice time talking about Walt."

Poor girl—she was young to die, but she never would have been really happy—never in this life."

Gradually we ceased to talk of Helen. Walter had put away his unfinished picture, and had commenced the one he had talked of—Jack and me.

I had many delightful days in the studio, and we seemed drawn nearer together than ever before. But I did not flatter myself that Walter had really changed very much.

He would be his old irresponsible self. He had given up the idea of a studio party because of Helen's death. Said he had talked of it with her, and would feel that she knew he had gone on with it, and that it would hurt her.

Then one day when the picture of Jack and me was nearly finished, Walter came in fairly beaming:

"Out with it!" I said. "I know something has happened by your looks."

"I should say there had! You remember that beautiful Miss Vernon we met at Hot Springs? She is in New York. I met her on the street. She said she was intending to look us up. I wondered what I should do next, and she wants her portrait painted. I can hardly wait to begin it. She is so unusual the picture will be sure to make talk."

When shall you begin it?" I asked quietly, my heart sinking. As I have said before, I was far more jealous of a girl like Vashti Vernon, a wonderfully beautiful and attractive society girl, than of Helen Rastrom, a model, and with a streak of commonness in her.

"Right away! And, Doreen, I wish you and the Mater would call on Miss Vernon. She is staying at the Ritz."

"I'll speak to Mrs. Page about it," I promised.

"You go anyway."

I thought of how indifferent Miss Vernon had been to me at the Springs how she had monopolized Walter and was tempted to refuse. Then I remembered my determination to be an understanding wife, to sympathize with Walter in his work, and said:

"All right I'll go, but I think it would be very nice if your mother went along. You speak to her at dinner."

Walter did, with the result that she agreed to go with me. We had a pleasant call and Mrs. Page was enthusiastic over Vashti Vernon—her unusual beauty, her perfect self-possession.

Only to Grace Harter did I say anything of what was in my heart and then in a careless way.

"She's the loveliest thing I ever saw," I told her. "I expect Walter will lose his head over her. He nearly did at the Springs."

"Walter loves you, Doreen, yet he is terribly susceptible. I hoped for your sake he'd not get some lovely girl to paint for a while anyway. Oh, well it's all in a life time, dear! It's his only failing. He doesn't drink or beat you."

"Perhaps it would be easier to bear than his flirtations," I said keeping my light tone.

Perhaps! Yet I don't believe Walter ever has had one really untrue thought. And now that he has Jack to think of as well—I'd trust him completely if I were you, Doreen. I wouldn't even think of danger with that girl.

Be your own quiet self, just as you have been, and you'll keep Walter's love against anyone. You're a sort of restful calming influence, and he knows it is what he needs."

"I guess you are right," I replied, thinking of the time when he had said:

"Thank God you're not temperamental!"
